ABOUT

I design and deliver production-ready software. Across 10+ years of full-stack engineering, I've owned architecture, technical decisions, and delivery for startups and enterprise teams. I turn product goals and complex systems into clear technical decisions, realistic scope, and a practical path to production. I also publish technical articles, share open-source code, and build independent products.

Expertise

- Architecture and system design for SaaS, APIs, and internal tools.
- Product discovery, codebase audits, and legacy modernization.
- API, database, microservices, and event-driven system design.
- Performance, scalability, security, observability, and CI/CD.
- AI integrations, agent workflows, and spec-driven development.
- Technical direction, code reviews, and engineering mentorship.

EXPERIENCE

Career break

Personal goals and professional growth
Mar 2026 - Present

I took a career break to focus on personal goals and professional growth. During this time, I've worked on personal projects, participated in hackathons, and written blog posts about system design and software engineering. I've built AI agents, explored LLM integrations, MCP, and related technologies, used tools for AI-assisted and spec-driven development, and experimented with React Native, Gleam, Rust, and Go.
